WHOLE FAMILY AT RE-UNION

A very happy family re-union took place on Christmas Day at 473 Burnside Road, Victoria, when Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Surrounded by 30 members of their family, representing four generations, the day was most fittingly observed by the couple. There are three sons and three daughters, all living, Charles ("Manny") in Sidney, Reginald and Walter of Victoria, Mrs. Wm. Fairall and Mrs. A. Thomas of Victoria, and Mrs. Ed. Blackburn of Chilliwack. There are 12 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The evening opened when little Bobby White, the only great grandchild, entered the room wheeling a wagon on which rested a handsome comforter, the gift from the family. This was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Simpson by their eldest son, "Manny," who spoke several words appropriate to the occasion.

Following the presentation the entire party sat down to a real old fashioned wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were married at Saanichton, 50 years ago, at the old Prairie Inn, at that time owned by Mr. Simpson's father, also William Simpson, who was one of the earliest settlers in the district.

Mr. Simpson was the first white child born and married in Saanich and Mrs. Simpson was formerly Miss Mary Greig, of Parson's Bridge. Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Simpson resided some time at Saanichton, moving later to "Rosebank," which is now Mallowmot Farm, Patricia Bay. Since 1920 they have made their home in Victoria. Both are in good health. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson keep busily occupied with many tasks, enjoying the company and enjoyment of their family.

They are both very well known to a large number of local residents, particularly the old timers here, and the Review takes this opportunity, along with many others, in offering congratulations on this their golden wedding anniversary.

DEEP COVE BALL FRIDAY

The old year of 1932 is nearly a thing of the past and to welcome the coming of the new year of 1933 the Deep Cove Social Club will hold its annual ball on Friday evening, Dec. 30th (not New Year's Eve). All friends are invited to participate in this time honored event and to meet their friends at the Deep Cove Hall on Friday evening.

Amid gay decorations and the happy spirit always prevalent at these affairs, dancers will step to the lively strains of music provided by Charlie Hunt's orchestra.

Admission price, which has been reduced considerably, may be seen under Coming Events and will include refreshments in keeping with the holiday season.

Christmas Prizes At Bridge Party

With the Christmas spirit prevailing 14 tables of bridge were in play at the Christmas card party of the Deep Cove Social Club held on Dec. 21st. The prizes for the evening's play were handsome Christmas puddings and leed Christmas cakes and the lucky winners were Mr. and Mrs. A. Deidall in contract and Mrs. J. J. Young and Mr. John Lawson for auction.

Very dainty refreshments in keeping with the event were enjoyed at the close of the evening.

The committee in charge of this popular card party are to be complimented on its success.

STORM DAMAGE AT FULFORD

By Review Representative

FULFORD HARBOUR, Dec. 28.—Fulford came in for its share of the damage caused by the terrific storm on Thursday. Huge seas rolled in, destroying the breakwater in front of the White Lodge, completely covering the road with logs and debris. As soon as the tide dropped the road foreman, Mr. G. E. Akerman, put a gang of men to work clearing away the rubbish, and later on in the afternoon Mr. Geo. Michell, road superintendent, arrived, by 3 o'clock Friday afternoon cars were able to go over the road.

Several residents had the misfortune of having their launches go aground, while others sank. A great deal of damage is reported along the waterfront at Fulford, Ganges, and other parts of the Island.

Telephone communication was completely cut off for days, but most lines are in working order again.

REST HAVEN CELEBRATIONS

On December 24th a Christmas program was given in the prettily decorated lounge at Rest Haven. Quite a number of friends from the Sidney district were present to enjoy the occasion with patients and members of the Sanitarium staff.

The program consisted of pianoforte selections, readings, solos and some carol singing. Mr. T. McIntosh, of Sidney, contributed to the enjoyment of the program by furnishing several musical selections on his dulcimer. The principal number was a dialogue entitled "The Bird's Christmas Carol," given by Mrs. Bowett, the nurses and children.

Later another program was given by the nurses in their dormitory parlour.

Small Child Meets With Nasty Accident

By Review Representative

FULFORD HARBOUR, Dec. 28.—On Monday morning little Allison Maude, eight year-old daughter of Captain and Mrs. G. Maude, Fulford, met with a nasty accident while riding down the steep hill at the Fulford wharf. She apparently lost control of her bicycle and plunged through the window of the post office at the foot of the hill, receiving bad cuts on her chin and face.

After first aid had been rendered the little girl was taken to Saint Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, where she is receiving treatment. Mrs. Maude accompanied her daughter to town.

Sidney Social Club

Twelve tables of players took part in the weekly military 500 of the Sidney Social Club in the Guide and Scout Hall on Tuesday, the 20th inst. The winners were as follows: First table, Mrs. G. Neoves, Miss P. Clow, Mr. H. Mowatt and Mr. Geo. Foster; second table, Miss E. Woods, Mrs. McIntosh, Mr. F. Richardson and Mr. H. Tahouney.

High bid prizes were won by Master C. Sanbury and Mr. G. Foster, and lucky card prizes by Mrs. W. Hadley, Mr. L. Slater and Miss E. Woods.

The high score for the full season, which was a ten-pound turkey, was won by Mr. Stewart Hill, with a total of 271 points.

After the cards supper was served and then followed dancing until midnight.

Hits Olympic Mountains On American Side At A Velocity Of 100 Miles An Hour. Seventy Mile Wind Hits Saanich Peninsula And Gulf Islands. Heavy Damage Done At Sidney.

With hurricane-like ferocity a storm which crashed against the Pacific Coast between 1:30 a.m. and noon on Thursday, wreaked havoc along the coastline from northern California to Alaska.

The gale, which reached a velocity of 95 to 100 miles an hour, struck the Olympic Peninsula, in the State of Washington, but the great range of mountain, known as the Olympic Range, with peaks reaching 4,000 and 5,000 feet above sea level, put the breaks on this great outburst to a considerable extent, however, but it was tearing along around 70 miles an hour when it reached Victoria and the Saanich Peninsula.

Tearing down electric light poles and power lines, uprooting trees and smashing to splinters boats and wharves were a few of the damages resulting from the storm, which is reported by many old timers to be the worst ever recorded in this area.

The Sidney Lumber Co. Limited reports over $4,000 damage, their breakwater being almost entirely washed away and loading wharf and derrick partially crippled. The dashing of the logs which broke loose from the boom at the end of Second Street caused several piles of lumber to slide into the sea. It is expected that some of the lumber will be salvaged, although a great deal of it was chewed up by the raging sea filled with churning logs and debris.

Damage at the Saanich Canning Co. Limited mounted to over $2,000. The front end of the cannery plant used for unloading clams, fish, etc., was completely demolished, and for a time it was feared that the adjoining part of the building, used as a storage depot for fruit, was going to suffer a like fate, but with the protection of a concrete retaining wall below it came through with only the front wall being smashed in. All the clam weighing and washing apparatus immediately above the landing wharf was hurled into the sea, some of the gear being salvaged after the storm abated.

The marine service station on the end of Copeland & Wright's wharf was lifted off its base by a mighty wave that shattered everything before it, along with a number of full gasoline drums that were on the wharf for shipment, the latter being salvaged half a mile away on the beach. Copeland & Wright will have a loss of over $1,000. However, one of the very necessary things in their business as ship builders, the marine ways, built of concrete and steel, held fast and came through the severe pounding without damage. By Friday evening Copeland & Wright had a new service station erected on the shore ready for business.

The ferry wharf, at the foot of Second Street, was literally pounded to pieces by the giant waves carrying logs and driftwood, which combined with one of the highest tides of the year, caused the flooding of the road up past the arch on Second Street and far out into the Brethour property towards the Anglican church. A hundred yards or more of the Canadian National Railway was washed out towards Hazan Bay, the steel rails being pulled apart and tossed into the swamp to the west by the churning sea of logs and debris. The damage to the ferry wharf and the railway will run into thousands of dollars.

The wharf at the foot of Beacon Avenue was badly chewed up by logs, the entire string of protecting piling still being in place, although the logs, although

NATIVE SON PASSES AWAY

On Monday morning at Rest Haven the death took place of Herbert William Harrison, a native son of Saanich, after a brief illness. He was taken to hospital the latter part of last week where an emergent operation was performed for appendicitis, but he died a few days later, Dec. 26th.

The late Mr. Harrison, who was 40 years of age, was born in Saanich and spent his life in this district. He is survived by his widow and two small sons, Glen and Arthur, a brother, Wilfred, of Victoria, and two sisters, Mrs. R. B. Brethour and Mrs. J. Mitchell, of Sidney. He was predeceased by his mother only a few months ago. He had for many years been a driver for the Coach Line Stages, and for the old Flying Line Service previous to that, so had been a well known and familiar figure of the Saanich Peninsula for many years.

The funeral will be held on Thursday from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 10 o'clock to the late residence, East Road. From there it will proceed to Saint Andrew's Church, Sidney, where services will be conducted by Rev. T. M. Hughes at 2:15 o'clock. Interment will be made in Holy Trinity Churchyard, Patricia Bay.

CROWD HEARS FINE MUSIC

An innovation was offered last Sunday evening in connection with the Christmas services at Saint Paul's United Church, when an organ and violin recital, arranged by Miss Kathleen Lowe, the organist, in which she was assisted by Dr. W. Bryce, violin, was given for half an hour prior to the evening worship hour. The program consisted of seven excerpts from "The Manger Prince," a Christmas cantata arranged by L. H. Ashford. A large audience followed the performance with marked and rapt attention. The items were as follows: "My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord," organ; "Oh, Come, O Come, Emmanuel," violin; "Thus Saith the Lord," organ; "Awake, O Zion," organ and violin; "Intermezzo," violin; "Noel, Noel," organ; "Christmas Lullaby," violin. Dr. Bryce also contributed a brief survey on the violin of some of the older carols which were much enjoyed. The church was filled to capacity and enjoyed quite a number of the older hymns congregationally sung.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. W. J. Gush, rendered in pleasing manner two anthems, "Behold A Virgin Shall Conceive" (Smith) and "There Were Shepherds" (Barnby). Mr. Gush also contributed the well known "Nazareth," which was also much appreciated.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the close of next Sunday's service.

The Sunday School will hold their annual Christmas entertainment in the church on Thursday evening, December 20th, at 8 o'clock. All parents are cordially invited to attend. A good program is being offered.

Christmas Bazaar

A successful Christmas bazaar and tea was held on the afternoon of Dec. 23rd by the local C.G.I.I. group. Candy and many lovely articles of fancy work were brought by those attending during the afternoon. Between the hours of 3 and 6 visitors were served tea and enjoyed the very entertaining program

FINE PAGEANT GAINS PRAISE

With a capacity audience that surpassed the most sanguine expectations of the promoters, the Young People's Society of Saint Paul's United Church presented a very beautiful Christmas playlet, last Wednesday evening, entitled "They That Sit In Darkness," depicting the reclamation of an outcast woman by the incidents surrounding the birth of Christ and a visit to the manger to worship, induced by godly insight and sympathy with human nature on part of other characters. The play was in three scenes and partook of a riot of Oriental color and imagery that was pleasing and effective. Very appreciative comments have frequently been heard around town and requests for its repetition.

The cast included the following, in order of appearance: "Miriam," the outcast, Ivy Hill; "Ruth," innkeeper's daughter, Winnie Thornley; "Joash," the innkeeper; Ernest Jackson; "Aman," servant of innkeeper; Ernest Roberts; "Rachel and Esther," women of the village, Helen Keyworth and Winnie Tapping; "Mary," mother of Jesus, May McIntosh; "Joseph," Basil Hartley; "Shepherds," A. Thornton, Len Slater, George Wilson, Bill Jackson; "Three Kings," W. Dawes, Milton Thornley, Harold Slater; "Other Women of Village," Bessie Jackson, Dot Varnham, Lily Slater.

Music, which was in great evidence throughout the pageant, was most fittingly supplied by Miss Kaye Lowe. Vic. Carter arranged the scenery, Fred Gilman the lights and Mrs. H. Shade the costumes, assisted by Mrs. Keyworth. The entire play was directed by Rev. Thos. Keyworth.

The Young People are very grateful for the patronage and interest taken by the congregation and community and are greatly encouraged by it and hope to be able to merit still farther this kindly interest.

Several numbers, which opened the evening, were much appreciated and were rendered as follows: Violin solo, Miss Winnie Tapping; reading, Nelson Frailek, and vocal solo, Mr. W. J. Gush.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT, 29TH

The cantata to be presented is entitled "Christmas Cheer For All."

Santa Claus will also make his yearly visit on this occasion when he will leave something for each child.

The pupils and teachers of the Sunday School have been busy with preparations for some time now and hope to entertain a large crowd of parents and friends on this occasion.

Annual Dinner, Friday,

January 27th, 1933

Friday, January 27th, 1933, is the date set for the eighth annual dinner of the North Saanich Branch of the Canadian Legion. All ex-servicemen are given a very cordial invitation to be present in the Masonic Hall, Saanichton, on the above date, commencing at 7 p.m.

Cantata on Friday

A delightful Christmas cantata entitled "The First Noel" will be presented on Friday evening, Dec. 30th, by pupils of the Mount Newton Sunday School. Pupils and teachers have been busy for some time past getting in readiness for the evening and all parents and friends are given a special invitation to be present at 7:30 at the Mount Newton Sunday School, Broad's Cross Road, presented for their pleasure.

Mrs. Maude and Miss Margaret Payne left on Saturday to spend Christmas at Fulford Harbour with her son.

Miss Gertie Bennett and Mr. D.
Vigurs spent Christmas in Vancouver with Mr. J. Vigurs and family.

A very delightful evening was spent at Culzean when Lady Constance Fawkes entertained a large party of friends to dinner and games on Dec. 26th in honor of her grandson Lawrence Kirby, whose birthday it was.

(Arrived too late for last issue.)

The children's concert was held at the hall on Dec. 15th and was an unqualified success. The children all acted their parts exceptionally well in the two plays presented, "The Golden Key" and "Mother Goose," the players besides being amusing were also educational and the recitations and singing were very good.
Gertie Beech and Lauretta Emery sang an excellent comic song composed by Mr. J. Neill. Miss Hawes was given a hearty vote of thanks for all the work she had had training the children and the concert was pronounced one of the best children's concerts ever put on. A vote of thanks was also given to Miss Margaret Beech for all her help in accompanying the songs and aiding Miss Hawes with the children. The children each got a nice present and a bag of candies off the tree, Santa Claus, of course being there to distribute the presents. After a hearty supper the remainder of the evening was given over to dancing and everyone spent a very happy time.

BREAKWATER NEEDED

To the Editor, Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review,
Sidney, B.C.

Dear Sir:—

The recent storm which has caused such havoc and devastation along the coast, reported to be the worse in 40 years, again demonstrates, if needed, the VITAL necessity for protection to the Sidney waterfront. Over the years the old Sidney Board of Trade has fathered such a project, two years ago when it last took up the question, they secured, on the South End of Vancouver Island, the almost unanimous support of every organization, association (political or otherwise), industry and club, including the Council of the City of Victoria. It was a striking agreement not often achieved.

The question arises now: WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

May I suggest that an effort be put forth to bring together the Dominion Public Works Department and the Canadian National Railways, to investigate the feasibility of a Combination Ferry Wharf, Railway Landing and Breakwater.

It is greatly to be deplored that this disaster should have occurred now, and the sympathy of the district will go out to all who have suffered so heavily.

If the project of two years ago had been pushed ahead much might have been avoided, and the Ferry Service might now be on an all-year-round basis.

Now Sidney, united action is needed, NOW!

W. H. DAWES.

Among damage resulting from last week's storm was the complete wrecking of the 20-foot sailing sloop of Cyril Rodd and Tom Hunter, of the Canoe Cove Shipyards, Canoe Cove (near Swartz Bay). Rodd and Hunter had set out for Victoria Wednesday afternoon and had anchored for the night off the west coast of James Island. They were awakened early Thursday morning to find the boats dragging ashore on the spit. After futile attempts to get back on board they decided to wait for the tide to fall, but instead of falling it continued to rise till it crashed the boats to the spit where they were dashed to pieces. Rodd and Hunter were marooned on the island for several hours, but following the receding of the tide they were able to make their way to the main part of James Island.

Missionary Society Held Annual Meeting

By Review Representative

PENDER ISLAND, Dec. 28.—The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Brackett, Browning Harbour, on Wednesday afternoon for their annual meeting and election of Officers. The third chapter of the study book was reviewed in a most interesting way by Mrs. Alexander, following which Mrs. S. P. Corbett, who has been acting president for some time, called for nominations for president. It was unanimously agreed that Mrs. Corbett should remain in the office which she has so capably handled, for the coming year. Mrs. W. A. Alexander was then elected vice-president, and the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Johnston and Mrs. V. W. Menzies, were elected by acclamation. At the close of the meeting the hostess served delicious refreshments and a happy social time was enjoyed. The treasurer announced that the allocation had been realized.
